

30/90 Evaluation

Try HP ATA Certification for Free!

About the promotion

Before institutions decide to offer the HP Accredited Technical Associate certification to students, they often want to try the certification programme first. To facilitate this, HP & Prodigy Learning have created “30/90”. Though this limited-time promotion, institutions may try the complete HP ATA Pathway at no cost for 90 days.

Evaluation offer includes

- HP ATA Exams for up to 30 users, valid for 90 days
- HP ATA MeasureUp practice tests for up to 30 users, valid for 90 days
- Sample courseware (includes sample chapters) and bridge curriculum (includes instructor guide and slide deck, student activities, and student study guide)

About the certification

The HP ATA certification delivers the industry’s first architect-level certification designed for academia. It validates real-world skills and prepares students for employment in small and medium business environments.

The programme includes both a technology career track and a business track leading to HP Accredited Technology Associate (HP ATA) certification in Cloud Computing and IT for Business respectively.

About the exams

HP ATA practice tests and exams must be taken at a Certiport Authorised Testing Centre using the Certiport Online Delivery System. Each HP ATA exam contains approximately 50 multiple choice questions with a 50-minute time limit.

Getting started

Register your interest in this promotion by contacting Prodigy Learning (HP ATA delivery partner for the UK & Ireland) by email to hp@prodigylearning.com. Please specify which track of the programme you would like to evaluate (Business or Technology). A local representative will contact you and help you get setup to trial the programme within days.
